Disaster Drill Announcements

As part of the Redwood City Congregation Disaster Preparedness and Response Project, congregations are encouraged to practice a disaster drill at the conclusion of services at least twice a year at the end of worship. Congregants should be informed at the beginning of services that the DRILL will be conducted at the conclusion of the worship service.

Announcement at the Time of the Drill

“As part of the Redwood City Congregation Disaster Preparedness, Response, Recovery Project, our Congregation is going to practice a disaster drill, so we can safely leave worship if there should be a real earthquake or any other need for us to evacuate quickly.

“We are now going to conduct our disaster preparedness drill. It is important that we have everyone’s attention and participation for this drill to go smoothly and comfortably.

“When we are all outside and announce the conclusion of the drill, you can return to the sanctuary, the social hall or _____.

-Those seated in this section (Point to section), please exit through the doors _____ and out of the building and gather at _____.

-Those seated in this section (Point to section), please exit through the doors _____ and out of the building and gather at _____.

Thanks you to everyone and please begin exiting now.”
